Commission, Department for Interzonal and Foreign Trade, and Yugoslavia cover the periods 15 February to 31 December 1948 and 14 May 1948 to May 1949. Of the first agreement, which amounts to 3.8 million dollars, goods worth 1.8 million dollars have already been delivered. The remaining orders have been placed, and delivery will probably be made before the end of the year. The second agreement involves the export of goods valued at 5 million dollars. Orders for machine tools and wood-processing machines, amounting to $460,000, have already been placed, but nothing has yet been delivered. It is, nowever, doubtful whether the second agreement can be fulfilled, ince it has become extremely difficult to procure the necessary materials.

machines and electrical equipment account for approximately do percent of all exports; optical and precision equipment, and fireproof materials for foundries, account for about 10 percent, while the remaining 10 percent is made up of miscellaneous goods, for which the Yugoslavs will submit specifications at a later date.

3. All bills have been issued since the middle of August by the t; amounts are given in dollars the rate of DM 2.50 to the dollar. e delivery of goods of equal value by Yugoslavia; as of the middle of September, however, these deliveries were somewhat in arrears.
